

Budget 2016

Rumblings of a Revolution?

THOMSON COOPER
ACCOUNTANTS

Join the Thomson Cooper experts on Friday 18th March at either -
The Hilton Grosvenor, Haymarket, Edinburgh from 8.00am or
The Carnegie Conference Centre, Dunfermline from 11.00 am for a full analysis of the Budget and its impact on YOUR business.

“Who would have thought a presentation on the Budget could be so informative and fun at the same time.” 2015 Budget Seminar guest.

As always, we'll be subject to a huge volume of political noise in the run up to the Budget, with question marks looming over the EU, falling oil prices and the impact of Scottish taxes. Combine that with growing discontent amongst small business owners that it's one tax rule for them and another for their global corporate counterparts, and we could have a gathering storm. Whatever happens, be assured we will deliver a budget analysis that provides planning pointers for you and your business. For the second year we will be hosting two Budget events.

Auto-Enrolment Seminar

Before the Budget Briefing in Dunfermline, Elaine Cromwell is hosting a FREE information session about pension auto-enrolment. Auto-enrolment will eventually apply to all employers, with no exemptions. This means they will have to set up a pension scheme for employees, assess their eligibility and pay contributions to a Qualifying Workplace Pension Scheme (QWPS). For Edinburgh guests interested in learning more about auto-enrolment, we will be hosting an additional FREE event at Thomson Cooper, 22 Stafford Street, on Monday 4th April at 5pm. Guests will be sent full details of the event once they have registered their interest.

We would be delighted to welcome any business colleague or friend who may enjoy the Budget Briefings or Auto-enrolment Seminars. Simply book a place for them along with your own. Capacity is limited so booking is essential.
